Watch her ride the morning tide
Easy as she sways
As the sunlight plays upon the water

Faithful is the name she bears Faithful has she been Once an ocean queen but still a lady

And as I watch the white of the sails in the sun catch the breeze
I sigh, All too soon she'll be gone beyond the horizon

Gracefully she turns her head out to open sea
Eager for the freedom that she knows is there

And as I watch the white of the sails in the sun catch the
I sigh, All too soon she'll be gone beyond the horizon
All too soon she'll be gone beyond the horizon
