To renew yourself please make sure
That you understand
(What you are)
Few things go your way
Because you put yourself aside

We are all the same
(The same)
Looking to direct the blame
Knowing we're all in a game
Lying has been helpful again
You must play a part just to blend

In with those you know who tell you they care
Who knows? They might
We're not always there to see the truth
Betrayal is a part of life you know, we've all been there

Views do change with time
I've learned about how to forget
(Move forward)
Everyone has hind sight
And makes sure to let you know
(You were wrong)

We are all the same
(The same)
Looking to direct the blame
Knowing we're all in a game
Lying has been helpful again
You must play a part just to blend

In with those you know who tell you they care
Who knows? They might
We're not always there to see the truth
Betrayal is a part of life you know, we've all been there

But what happens when you've been denied
Sadness sinks in, takes the place, pride
The medicine I need is in short supply
I feel right now that I must stay alive
