Why are we destroying ourselves?
Why are we destroying ourselves?

What the hell are we fighting for?
Killing each other day by day
Now that we know how the system works
We know nothing is going to change

They think America looks brave
With rifles in their hands
They always try to solve
The problems of other lands

Many mistakes have been made
Throughout history and time
Don't look the other way
Or pretend you're blind

Why is there poverty
And why is there hate
Everything is changing
At an alarming rate

Why are we destroying ourselves?
Why are we destroying ourselves?

The blue sky turns red
As my eyes begin to bleed
My skin is now burned off
I can no longer breathe

This preminition I have everyday
I wish it did not have to end this way
No more fresh air for us to breathe
The water is polluted we can't have what we need

Humanity has been such a waste of time
The past is the present and it will be erased

Why are we destroying ourselves?
Why are we destroying ourselves?
Why are we destroying ourselves?

Why are we destroying ourselves?
