We're giving each other a hard time while we're not supposed to do so I've been crying like a girl you've been smashing up the lamps and the stereo You're a fine brunette you make the kings of the jungle roar You're the finest I have met this year and many years before

Now I can't live with you whether times are high or low and I can't live with you not telling me where it is you wanna go either way I can't stand it now so baby stay away and please let me know

Our hands that hold one another do squeeze too hard sometimes Provoking thoughts that would perfectly fit into a gallery of famous crimes But when your lips are near and you're giving me one of your juicy grins Provoking physics that would perfectly fit into a gallery of famous sins

Now I can't live with you...

We're in a movie about madness and about defeat with a soundtrack of a jazzed up heartbeat I don't know what we can do I have no idea I don't care if you're someone else as long as you're here with me

Now I can't live with you...

let me know
let me know

let me know
