1. He never said I'd have silver or gold,
Yet he has promised me riches untold.
He never suffered a life without care,
Yet he relieves every burden I bear.

CHORUS:

Sin stained the cross with the blood of my Lord;
Yet he permitted it without a word.
Why, tell me why, he redeemed you and me?
Love is why you and I are free.

2. I was astray full of sin with it's shame,
There was no peace within; I was to blame.
Though undeserving, my life so defiled,
Now to my God I have been reconciled.

3. Though I have few
of this world's precious goods,
Yet I'm an heir to all heaven affords.
Though I may never achieve earthly fame,
Yet all of heaven can call me by name.
