Tell me you will Trust me still I sometimes understand how you feel But mostly, i just stand still And never really knew when you're ill I know the times you're angry with me I know you're sick and tired of me thought of getting rid of me You also wanna get even with me but damn, i don't know the times when you need company Your totally fed up with all my apology almost in damnshit with all my sorry i don't know really well how to make you happy I don't know really well, i feel i'm just being funny what i only knew, i always make you worry But believe me, dear the pain you feel is the same pain i can't bear believe me not i treasure you a lot tell you wont leave and just stay i plead to God thats what i pray Dear, i regret the moments i made you mad truly, i am dying when you're sad my heart is aching everytime you cry and feel hate just stab me with a knife ill welcome my faith but please give me your sweetest smile before i face death I better die this early than see you dull, oh terribly i better not exist than to know, in my life you'll perish I know times i break promises i always have too many excuses

Give me, i'm begging another chance, darling kindly please tell me you will...

trust me still
