

Until June

"Underneath"

Visit "Underneath" on MotoLyrics.com

How long will you hide from me? I just need to know you're there, just enough to know you care for me. I am cluttered with a million thoughts. I am sorry if I fall apart. The pieces that are broken are beautiful underneath, when everything I have was everything you took from me. And if I fall, I'm weak. I know that everything I have is everything you give to me.

Darker than a moonless night, stumbling to find the light... I just need to feel a pulse in me. But even if I break apart, you find a way to fix my heart and take away the emptiness. And it's beautiful underneath when everything I have was everything you took from me. And if I fall, I'm weak. I know that everything I have is everything you give to me.

And you piece me back again.

And it's beautiful underneath when everything I have was everything you took from me. And if I fall, I'm weak. I know that everything I have is everything you give to me. (x2)

I know that everything I have is everything you give to me.

Visit Until June page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.