Attention party people its a APB that is an all points bulletin from Young MC now rather your a senior citizen or just a tike just grab a seat and pay attention as i rock the mic

I wrote a couple of Rhymes and call them just say no dedicated to the people who are on the go and when can help you out when you are on the brink and when you listen this jam can make you think

If you were ever in a situation with out enough time for contemplation all of your friends go in the same way you feel kind of trapped, you dont know what to say

Just say no

'cause better safe then sorry this is for real, this aint no game or folly its your life and you only got one so you better do it right or it will soon be done

You want to be popular, you want to be cool you want to be the one that every body likes at school you want to be every thing just for every one else but you better thing of what you want to be for your self

Every day people livin in the same old mess hard to be original and not be like the rest you got to go for what you know, you cant afford to guess and heaven knows what would happen if you did say yes

so say NO

just say NO

You hear me say NO...no...no...no

Just say NO

kids OD and cause a family grief over the marijuana plant and the coca leaf over a bunch of pills to try to get their thrills over a drug you shoot because you think it's cute

Over something you smoke, man it ain't no joke over something you drink oh boy why don't you think over something you snort like you were playing a sport one day you'll go too far and you'll come up short

Some people out there don't seem to get my point telling other crack kills while they're smoking a joint well the point of this song is to tell you the facts some people die from smoking the way like they die from crack

Not a drug in particular but drugs in general they're not good for you like a vitamin or a mineral they come in liquid, leaf, powder, pills, and rocks to put you six feet under on your back in a box

so say NO

just say NO

did you hear me say NO...no...no...no

just say NO
