(Put your red dress on, put your lipstick on sing your song, song now the camera's on you) Continues throughout the song

Red bottoms on the red carpet, lights flashin' - you a star now.
Expensive whip and you the driver
Not the backseat of the car now
I guess you came up, got some "act right"
But your new friends don't know your past life
Maybe all this just one big front, just so you can live in the limelight
You know the high life - it's addictive ain't it?
Tryin' to keep up - it's expensive ain't it?
'Cause they in the club screamin' "cash out"
All or nothin' - not partial payments
Your partial statement soundin' like the truth.
Story entertainin', but it's lackin' proof
When the foundation come crumblin' down
Will the cold world satisfy with you?

Put on your good clothes, it's about to be a show
When the lights are upon you they will never ever know
That a rose grew from concrete
Or a diamond came from coal
But it's one thing that's for certain - it's for show.
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you

I mean the real you, not the scripted version
Daddies little girl, yes, princess urban Environments influence the person
Now she long gone and you see what surfaced.
See now she hurtin', but she got purpose.
Never lookin' back so she close the curtain
On a grim life, couple dim lights
Between the white lines you can find her lurkin'
She's ridin' high though
Appears to plie low

Tricks for dollars - you can buy those.
Screams and hollers
Meanwhile her eyes close.
Pain when they open and she still alive
Yet she still survived those gruesome nights
Finally caught up, got a hold of life
Turned the car around, put it back in drive
Just to say goodbye, never think twice.

Put on your good clothes, it's about to be a show
When the lights are upon you they will never ever know
That a rose grew from concrete
Or a diamond came from coal
But it's one thing that's for certain - it's for show.
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you
The cameras on you

Red bottoms on the red carpet, lights flashin' you a star
now
You a star now
You a star now

Red bottoms on the red carpet, lights flashin' you a star
You a star now
You a star now

Red bottoms on the red carpet, you a star now
You a star now
You a star now

Red bottoms on the red carpet, you a star now
You a star now
You a star now

Put on your good clothes, it's about to be a show
When the lights are upon you they will never ever know
That a rose grew from concrete
Or a diamond came from coal
But it's one thing that's for certain - it's for show.
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you
The cameras on you

Red bottoms on the red carpet, lights flashin' you a star
You a star now
You a star now

Red bottoms on the red carpet, lights flashin' you a star
You a star now
You a star now

Put on your good clothes, it's about to be a show
When the lights are upon you they will never ever know
That a rose grew from concrete
Or a diamond came from coal
But it's one thing that's for certain - it's for show.
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you
The cameras on you now
The cameras on you
