It shouldn't be this easy, to let me go
If there's a shred of give-a-damn, it doesn't show
Is it too much to ask for a single tear?
Did you ever love me at all?
Tell me, do you even care that I'm gone?

I know it's over
I know we're through
I know it's not your fault
I'm not the one for you
I know you'll move on
I'm okay with goodbye
But it's driving me crazy
Going out of your mind

I know it wouldn't kill you, to ask me how I've been
A simple card or phone-call, every now and then
You could at least pretend forever
Once was yours and mine to gain
A reality, not a promise made in vain

I know it's over
I know we're through
I know it's not your fault
I'm not the one for you
I know you'll move on
I'm okay with goodbye
But it's driving me crazy
Going out of your mind

I know you'll move on
I'm okay with goodbye
But it's driving me crazy
Oh, it's driving me crazy
Going out of your mind
