I walked away from all that I knew
Mistake number one when I met you
You knew what to say and you played it so well
You're turning me into someone else
Please try to see what you've done to me
If we can't be friends then I'm just gonna leave

You'll never know me
Stop trying to hold me
It feels so right but something's wrong
We could have so much more but you're closing the door
Think it over tonight yeah
I'm right

Sometimes I'm afraid to say but I see every game that you've played on me
It's easy to fall cause I always trust you and hope that you'll always treat me true
We can never go back in time so let's do this right
This can't go on You're driving me out of my mind

You'll never know me
Stop trying to hold me
It feels so right but something's wrong
We could have so much more but you're closing the door
Think it over tonight yeah
I'm right

Take me away, take me away
I can't stay, I can't stay
Take me away this time

I walked away from all that I knew
Mistake number one when I met you
You knew what to say and you played it so well
You're turning me into someone else

You'll never know me

Stop trying to hold me
It feels so right but something's wrong
We could have so much more but you're closing the door
Think it over tonight yeah
I'm right

You'll never know me
