There you are creeping through my dreams
Like so many nights before
You sing the song that you know I long for
That leaves me wanting more
You trap me in this make believe,
'Till morning sets me free

Wake me up I'm lost in your glory
Dreaming I was part of your story
And I can't fight this lonely obsession
You'll never see, the beauty in me

You appear so close but I know you're far
You're a million miles from my reach
It's hard to wake when you pull me in Cradling every word that you speak,
The fantasy consumes my world now
That day can't set me free

Wake me up I'm lost in your glory
Dreaming I was part of your story
And I can't fight this lonely obsession
You'll never see, the beauty in me

I try to wake up
I try to wake up

Wake me up I'm lost in your glory
Dreaming I was part of your story
And I can't fight this lonely obsession
You'll never see, the beauty
You'll never see, the beauty in me
