[Evan]

Going back and forth inside my shut up brain again
Worlds apart, I'm torn apart, I'll stall up my senses
Somehow through it all we've become defenseless
I'm living this lie and I can't pretend
And I know I'll get that feeling when we meet again
And I know I will be stronger in the end

[Adam M]

Now we realize the compromises you and I
You fell from heaven to heartbreak in the blink of an eye
When I leave right now, get up and walk away
Our yesterdays will begin to fade
These things are always difficult between a father and a daughter

[Peter]

It's always very delicate it makes it so much harder
If you look into her eyes you'll see you've always been her world

[Chorus]

I am gonna let her go when she gives me the ball
I feel very young and now I'm growing old for soccer
I try to take care of my baby girl everyday
I worry too much and she's shy to everyone out there
I am gonna let her go when she gives me the ball
I feel very young and now I'm growing old for soccer
I try to take care of my baby girl everyday
I was born in the 60's and I was careless as the wind

Are you gonna let her go?

Are you gonna let her go?

[Sryan]

I know you want the best for her I know you're just afraid
One day she's gonna leave you for a boy who is the same as She's beautiful like her mama we know where that could end

I know it's hard
Just like the way you let me years ago
And I'm still coming home

[Adam E]
Heads down, buried in the sand
She's back now, I better wash my hands
She talks like a man gettin' higher than I can Lovin' me when I'm in a rock band
She's living in shadows
Close the wind, it's time to shut the door

[Sean]
It's always very delicate it makes it so much harder
If you look into her eyes you'll see you've always been her world

[Chorus]
I am gonna let her go when she gives me the ball
I feel very young and now I'm growing old for soccer
I try to take care of my baby girl everyday
I worry too much and she's shy to everyone out there
I am gonna let her go when she gives me the ball
I feel very young and now I'm growing old for soccer
I try to take care of my baby girl everyday
I was born in the 60's and I was careless as the wind

Are you gonna let her go?
Are you gonna let her go?

[Taylor Swift]
Say a prayer now, and get down on the floor
There's a howling wind blowing through my brain
Moving in slow, just like the hurricane
Pick up the phone, no one's home
I got the wrong number
Maybe I'm missing something
Or you done changed on me
Work it out, it's hard
To leave things the way they are
I need you right here next to me
Operator could you help me?
Tryna talk to my baby

[Chorus]
I am gonna let her go when she gives me the ball
I feel very young and now I'm growing old for soccer
I try to take care of my baby girl everyday
I worry too much and she's shy to everyone out there
I am gonna let her go when she gives me the ball

I feel very young and now I'm growing old for soccer
I try to take care of my baby girl everyday
I was born in the 60's and I was careless as the wind

Are you gonna let her go?
Are you gonna let her go?

I am gonna let her go when she gives me the ball
Are you gonna let her go?
I feel very young and now I'm growing old for soccer
Are you gonna let her go?
I try to take care of my baby girl everyday
Are you gonna let her go?
