[Verse 1]

Because right now, everybody should be happy like a mother
And right now, we just throwin' a party, that's all
And right now, the Waborita's are kickin' ass in Charlotte, North Carolina
And we got Mikey on the bass
Don't wanna wait till tomorrow
So why put it off another day?
One by one, little problems
Build up, and stand in our way
One step ahead, one step behind it
Now ya gotta run to get even
Make future plans or dream about yesterday
Come on turn, turn this thing around
Miss a beat, you lose the rhythm
Nothin' falls into place
Only missed by a fraction
Slipped a little off your pace
Everybody would ya fucking come on right now?

[Chorus]

Stop wasting time (oh)
Stop standing there (oh)
Stop walking slow (oh)
Stop running too fast (oh)
Stop pretending to swim (oh)
Everybody come on and cop on right now

[Verse 2]

(Right now) It's your tomorrow, baby
(Right now) Come on, it's everything
(Right now) Catch your magic moment
Let's do it right here and now
Because tonight means everything
The more things you get, the more you want
Trading one for the other
Workin' so hard to make it easy
Whoa, got to turn, turn this thing around
Raise your hands if you ever had your doubts,
Trying to figure, what's it all about!

Right now (right now) don't you know weâ€™ve all been there before,
Don't ignore it!
Nothin' falls into place
Only missed by a fraction
Slipped a little off your pace
Everybody would ya fucking come on right now?

[Chorus]

Stop wasting time (oh)
Stop standing there (oh)
Stop walking slow (oh)
Stop running too fast (oh)
Stop pretending to swim (oh)
Everybody come on and cop on right now

[Verse 3: Kanye West]

I look for your face in every crowd
I know you're with me in every town
I still can feel you a thousand miles away
I got no doubt this magic will stay
I look in you eyes and see my heart
I touch your hand and I know we can't part
My feelings for you keep going on strong
I know with you there is no wrong
All of those good times when we're at play
There's so much inside me there's so much to say
It's only for me and I know my place
People know you put a smile on my face
Miles between us here we are
Sat by side a stranded car
Right now, baby right now
And it's too dark to see
Anyhow so where are we
Right now, baby, right now
You could say we've both come down
To a place called lonesome town
When did you loose a hold on me
Anyhow and where are we
Right now, oh, baby right now
And now Iâ€™ve waited and waited
And contemplated things that complicated
Day to day and how to change it
And rearrange all the shit that I think I need
Wonâ€™t free me from demons
That be chasin my mind and wasting my time
Considered suicide and why when I got everything I need
In front of me and now I see my life opening
Like a road in front of me â€˜cuz in the end itâ€™s myself

That I really fight
How could I have been so wrong about whatâ€™s so right

[Chorus]

Stop wasting time (oh)
Stop standing there (oh)
Stop walking slow (oh)
Stop running too fast (oh)
Stop pretending to swim (oh)
Everybody come on and cop on right now

Stop wasting time (oh)
Stop standing there (oh)
Stop walking slow (oh)
Stop running too fast (oh)
Stop pretending to swim (oh)
Everybody come on and cop on right now

Right now, now, now, now, now, now, now
