

Uriah Heep "She Still Calls His Name"

Visit "She Still Calls His Name" on MotoLyrics.com

Summer moonlight shines
On a midnight train
Lost in emotion she cries
To the wind and the rain
In silence she feels the breeze
No mercy tonight
The passion and promise has made
Life broken inside

She stills calls his name
She can't get home
She stills calls his name
Broken hearted

Another town rolls by
As a distant rose
And wonderin' what she will find
When she gets home
You, there's a part in flame
But a careless heart
Dreams are an open game
Will tear you apart

She stills calls his name
She's out of control
She stills calls his name
Broken hearted

One love comes of the rest
A bed of roses was a bed of nails
Don't take the blame forever
Just give it time

Visit Uriah Heep page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.