

Uriah Heep

"The Poet's Justice"

Visit "The Poet's Justice" on MotoLyrics.com

Cold winds and cloudy skies
turn to sweetness in her eyes.
Fantasies I realized
came to life to my surprise.

Rain came and took her away
just when I thought she was here to stay.
Sun gone, I was left high and dry when love came by and touched me and kissed me so long.

Shine hard October moon.
He will take me to her soon.
Run swiftly silver stream.
Find my love or let me dream.

Now half of me is all of her,
I'd be much happier if I were whole.
All my words and wisdom fail.
The poet's justice leads me to my goal - leads me to my goal.

Cold winds and cloudy skies
turn to sweetness in her eyes.
Fantasies I realized
came to life to my surprise

Visit Uriah Heep page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.