War Child

open your eyes, you're still here, still safe at peace in this world
so great, you're free, you don't have to fight for your life but just say, just say there's fire from the sky and yo're burning alive why all this pain and poison in her mind what can you change, when hatred made her blind soldiers no reason to look into her eyes no one to hold her

no one who really cares

lifeless expressions, destroyed all conceptions for children in the street who's there to help you when all is forgotten and torn apart by fear no one to hold her

oh please don't cry
oh no war child

the struggle for power that grows by the hour like the blood beneath her feet dispering with hertache there must be somebody to help her in such need

oh no war child

oh no war child
