take me back to griffith park where radiance is not so dark and mother earth shows signs of all her pain oriel and holding hands marching popsicles just stand destiny is dripping thru your veins

i like to fly like the birds in the sky while lying on my pillow getting, almost as high
not a tuesday child and i don't understand is it all make believe in my neverland

way back, beyond your days when emily played with arnold layne and sister mary came back to me
