Sitting on the train

Aesop in my headphones

Solo

"I Just Don't Give A Fuck" is my ring tone

I never battle but they recognize my silhouette

And come against me

I offer autographs

Real cocky

Nine out of ten just wanna rhyme with me anyway

I got no enemies 'cause they all just assimilate

I can offer them a strength that they can't even contemplate

It's not a gang, it's not a cult

We're just the human race

No leader

We're independent-minded free speakers

Learn it well enough that we could all become teachers

And then we kill each other off like an endangered species

You reached the Code Poets, leave a message at the beep

I transitioned from a mere musician

To a style so fresh

You think I had three wishes

And you'll never see me waste a breath

On my mission

Til the day I face a conviction for my convictions

[Off Topic]

Walking down the street

Got Nas in my headphones

Solo

"Machine Gun Funk" is my ring tone

New Jersey, New York, Illadelph, East Coast

Off Topic, Phase Fate, Snake Money, no one else

Hip-hop Camelot

Knights of the turntable

Go shot-for-shot and show you who holds the mic cable

Billion-dollar satellites

Watching me now

Got letters from the White House
Calling me out
They wanna tell you I'm not real
Cover my mouth
But they don't know I've got connects on the Hill
Bugs in their couch
They need a beautiful mind to figure me out
I'm so ahead of their time
They think I just came out
I got untouchable rhymes
That cause the people to rise up
'Cause we ain't getting' played in our house
Their fucking time's up
This is the gateway drug to distribution
One small step for the evolution of music
