You say times are tough

We've got the best of both worlds here

Things are rough

We've got the best of both worlds here

Times are tough

We've got the best of both worlds here

The real world is not as calm as it appears to be from here

The real world is not as calm as it appears to be from here

The old world is not as safe wit the new world closing in

The great South Land can be as great as the one it could have been

The one it could have been

CHORUS

The real world is not as calm as it appears to be from here

The small world is not as strong and the testing ground is near

The old world is not as safe as the one we could have seen

The great South Land can be as great as the one thit could have been

The one it could have been

We've got the best of both worlds
