Tell for yourself

Watch me sweat, watch me crawl

Stretch me on the table up against the wall

Up against the wall

You can see for yourself

But you better not say

You're working four more hours every other day

CHORUS

See me suffer, see me pain

Must be someone else to blame

See me suffer, see me pain

There's more trouble at the dockyard

Parties shouting at the union

Short fuses on their anger

Workers in confusion

Then there's the vandals of the right

They stalk the streets at night

Got someone else to fight

They got someone else to blame

CHORUS

You can speak for yourself

Before the moment is lost

But I don't wanna shout cos I'm counting the cost

I'm counting the cost

Yes I'm counting the cost
