"Adore"

I've been quite far away for very long
I miss my home the place where I belong
But there's someone here to keep me warm She's here with me from dusk to dawn
Her smile is like no one I've seen before She's the one I adore

I wanna find the time to let her know and hold her in my arms before I go cause the love in me is growin strong im sad to say that it cant go on it feels like ive been writing on a wall but She's the one I adore

And now I cannot find her she has gone away and wheres she planned to go she didnt say so now I am left here all alone wonderin if she's on her own or with someone who loves her even more the one that I adore
