I don't eat or sleep no more just pace around
Banging my head on the wall just to hear the sound
Can't hold myself together falling apart
We used to be forever now you broke my heart
And I could kill you for what you've done to me

The walls are closing in its even darker than before
Only thing I can hear is when you slammed the door
Just how your pretty face cut me to the bone
No rhyme or reason you left me all alone
I could kill you for what you've done to me
(chorus)
Then I remember every thing we've done
Despite myself I still love you you're the one

We're fucked right up right now got to keep control don't keep on digging deeper,deeper down the hole
My heart is fighting with the voices in my head
I gotta let you go or we'll both end up dead
I could kill you for what you've done to me
(chorus)
Then I remember every thing we've done
Despite myself I still love you you're the one
Then I remember how you made me smile
But I remember you ain't done that for a while.
