Run run away from me before I change into something you wont like Go on get away from here before I show you something you can't fight
The moon is getting fuller got no control over myself My blood is boiling baby and no ones gonna be here to help get yourself up of your knees this aint no time it aint no place Shake your pretty ass on out move it like you was in a race

We got a problem you've taken my mind off of the time While you've been loving me I'm slowly changing much more then my mind

There a wolf inside of me trust me baby aint no doubt Its getting harder I gotta let this bastard out

What sharp teeth I've got looks like its gonna be to late How you gonna make it out in any kind of state I'm gonna eat you baby and not the way that you like Your just meat now so don't you put up a fight
