Everybody has a wish they long to have
Everybody has a wish they long to have

After all is said and done
I know we will regain
Everything we thought we'd lost
Wasn't lost in vain

All the words that we have read
All the memories that lie dead
All the love you've ever had
Doesn't have to end...

Everybody has a wish they long to have
Everybody has a wish they long to have

All our lives seem to be
A muse we can't explain
And the thoughts we've ever felt
Crumble with the rain

Thoughts of sadness
Thoughts of war
We still struggle to want more
Skies above our emptiness
Always fills the void...

Everybody has a wish they long to have
Everybody has a wish they long to have

Make a wish
Into the sun
Make a wish
I hope it's a good one

Make a wish
For all of us
Young and old
Across the world

Everybody has a wish they long to have
Everybody has a wish they long to have

Everybody has a wish they long to have
Everybody has a wish they long to have

(After all is said and done
You know I'm still afraid
Little children can you free me
Full of sadness deep inside me)

-Undecipherable lyrics under chorus-

(You know that I will always love you)
(You know that I will always love you)
