Welcome to the end,
the universe expands,
Everyone is glad as the sun descends,
And your self esteem, comes back from where it's been,
We are all indebted to everything it brings
You know how everything is connected and reflected,
now!
Welcome to our room.
Have you seen the moon?
As it fills the shadows with its blue white gloom?
You know how everything is rejected and collected,
now!
The universe expands
So welcome to the end
I am no different from what you seem to be,
All that we have we should hold in high regard
You know how everything is dissected and inspected,
now!
The universe expands
So welcome to the end
The universe expands
So welcome to the end
