I want you

Push to the back to the front to the back again
Noses on the back wall, feeding in front of him
Push to the back to the front to the back again
Tunnel vision, I can't see

I want you
To start making sense again

Creature comforts, creature hopes
They've all been sold
Put it at the front, keep the rest behind
Until we grow old

I want you
To start making sense again

Look out Joe, here comes a cliché
Rock, a hard place, nothing to say
Ask me a question, what to do
I can't believe I listen to you

I want you
To start making sense again
I want you, I want you
To start making sense again
