Tired of thinking about tattoos and girlfriends
Or getting into a cool club on the weekend
Only two months 'til I turn eighteen
I'm gonna get a car and drive to the city
Where all the lights
Are shining bright

Don't wanna be like all the others
That just ain't me
Do I really wanna end up living life just like you?
All I need is time to discover
Even though I'm just eighteen
I've still got some time to dream

My friends are fading since I left high school
Not sure or if to call or whether to let go
Saw a kid I knew the other day
Said she had a baby by a guy twice her age
And all her nights
No longer bright

Don't wanna be like all the others
That just ain't me
Do I really wanna end up living life just like you?
All I need is time to discover
Even though I'm just eighteen
I've still got some time to dream

Don't wanna be like all the others
That just ain't me
Do I really wanna end up living life just like you?
All I need is time to discover
Even though I'm just eighteen
I've still got some time to dream

Trying to get away from the scene
And make a new clean start for myself
Getting help
Break away from the guys that'll hold me back
I'll get away from that and get my life on track
Cos I know what it's like now to have a dream

Hah, you know what I mean
So you gotta break up, make up, listen to your own mind
Life can be so tough when you're only eighteen

I'm tired of thinking bout tattoos and girlfriends
Or getting into a cool club on the weekend
It's only two months 'til I turn eighteen
Gonna get a car and drive to the city
Where all the lights are shining bright

Don't wanna be like all the others
That just ain't me
Do I really wanna end up living life just like you?
All I need is time to discover
Even though I'm just eighteen
I've still got some time to dream

Don't wanna be like all the others
That just ain't me
Do I really wanna end up living life just like you?
All I need is time to discover
Even though I'm just eighteen
I've still got some time to dream
