Oh the fools
Who adore you
We're never the same once we cried in the rain over
you
Same old story
And if wishing's a crime then I guess they were right
I'm a fool
To adore you
We're never the same once we cried in the rain over
you
Same old story
And if wishing's a crime then I guess they were right

When I'm lying lonely I just dream about you taking me back
Yeah
I tell myself if only I could see you then my heart wouldn't crack
No
Is it cos I'm not around that you got someone new by your side?
Yeah
Why is it I'm not aloud to tell you all the truth that I hide?

Fooled
By a fool
But the rules never told me how to tangle with you
I'm confused
But I knew I could only get in trouble with...

Fools
Who adore you
We're never the same once we cried in the rain over
you

Same old story
And if wishing's a crime then I guess they were right
I'm a fool
To adore you
We're never the same once we cried in the rain over
you

Same old story
And if wishing's a crime then I guess they were right

Waking up early, evening sun
And I think of you
I find the sudden urge to run
And kiss you black and blue
Why does the going get so rough?
It's a mystery
Stop the world I'm getting off
It's way to weird for me

Oh the fools
Who adore you
We're never the same once we cried in the rain over
you
Same old story
And if wishing's a crime then I guess they were right
I'm a fool
To adore you
We're never the same once we cried in the rain over
you
Same old story
And if wishing's a crime then I guess they were right
