Does he ask her after all these years if she still loves
him?
Does she ask him after all these years if he still cares?
Are these real fears when all I've seen is laughter
And devotion in their eyes?
As their witness the beloved guides.

Does a flower still bloom in April
When the winter ends its foolish reign?
And does the sun shine when spirit conquers anger
Along this life of lotus tides?
As their witness the beloved guides

Does he ask her after all these years if she still loves
him?
Does she ask him after all these years if he still cares?
Are these real fears when all I've seen is laughter
And devotion in their eyes?
As their witness the beloved guides.
