"Into The Pit"

Deep in the pit and lying alone
Where death has reared it's ugly throne
We're all the good, the bad
The worst and the best
And where they land is their eternal rest
Foul plays of passion
At twilight's dim
In joy of woe, of good and sin
Winds of storm and fates overcast
Darkly my presence
Is now your past
Join the insanity
Or die as you fall
Into the pit!
The mass production
And the killing of all
Into the pit!
The future screams of help
Are fading away
Into the pit!
The world tomorrow

Will it die for today?

Into the pit!

So in the sad, silent watches of night

The lonely pathway envisions my sight

Echoes of laughter

And boundless cries

so here I wander under endless skies

Join the insanity

Or die as you fall

Into the pit!

The mass production

And the killing of all

Into the pit!

The future screams of help

Are fading away

Into the pit!

The world tomorrow

Will it die for today?

Into the pit
