How can I ever forget you?

You don't know just what I've been through.

The holiday we spent together,

Lives with me now and forever.

I tried but I can't find you.

Tell me now what do I do?

I tried but I can't find you.

Tell me now what do I do?

I can't find my piece of mind,

Because I need you with me all of the time.

I used to think about you night and day,

I used to feel what language cannot say.

Oh, I can't find you.

No, I can't find my piece of mind without you.

Maybe you will write me a letter,

And tell me why I never met you.

Our rendezvous just ended in sorrow,

Without you there's no tomorrow.

I tried but I can't find you.

Tell me now what do I do?

I tried but I can't find you.

Tell me now what do I do?
I can't find my piece of mind,
Because I need you with me all of the time.
I used to think about you night and day,
I didn't care what other people would say.
Oh, I can't find you.
No, I can't find my piece of mind without you.
I can't find my piece of mind,
Because I need you with me all of the time.
I used to think about you night and day,
I used to feel what language cannot say.
Oh, I can't find you.
No, I can't find my piece of mind without you.
Or with her, with you girl- it really don't do,
He sees other's faces, but never found you
