

Order New

"Sunrise"

Visit "Sunrise" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been waiting to hear your voice for too long now

One-way conversations do not work somehow

Tell me, how does one get your soul in touch with the one above

When one-way conversations pay a price for the use of love

I tried so hard last night, you would not talk to me

I live with the fear of a few with the gift

And I know what's going to be

Why did you never speak my name in front of my family?

You gave me a gift that you then took away

Are you ever going before?

Your name might be God but you do not say that much to me

Your name I forgot but you don't say that much to me

We might be your black sheep,

But you forgot us a long time ago

We might be your lost sheep,

But it's time you remembered us now

As we spend our days together, nothing can go wrong

No one told the truth about it because it was so strong

If you ever think of me, a gift within my name

If you read between the lines, you'll hang your head in shame

Easy ears will never hear, the ice will never freeze

Whatever I have done for you I did because you complained

(Whatever you may think of me whatever you may say

I've lived my whole life in danger,

You've lived your life in hate)*

*lyric from official bootleg album _Pumped_Full_of_Drugs

Visit Order New page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.