I'm not complaining, I'm just explaining
You're pushing me way out of sight
You've been mistaking, exaggerating
The way you treat me just ain't right
Why all this messing, who will it be tonight
You're overdressing, it's just not feeling right

You don't need no driving license
To drive the sense right out of me
Hit me where it hurts and treat me like dirt
It's easy when you hold the key
You keep persueing, what you've been doing
And staying out late every night
You keep pretending it's never ending
The rope you pull's getting far too tight
Why all this messing, who will it be tonight
You're overdressing, it's getting me uptight
You don't need no driving license
To drive the sense right out of me
Hit me where it hurts and treat me like dirt
It's easy when you hold the key
