I thought her heart was true
I didn't have a clue
I thought that I had made it high
I was dreaming
I had it wrong, what I thought strong
Has all broken

I thought her heart was true
That she loved me too
I didn't have a clue
She'd break my heart in two
How could I see, that she'd been saying
The same things to the other guys
How could I see that she'd be playing
With my heart all of the time
Try to realize someone despised
Me like she did
I. I just don't know why
She thought that I could be so stupid
To think her heart was true
That she loved me too
Right from the the start
She knew she'd break my heart in two
How could I see, that she'd been saying
The same things to the other guys
How could I see that she'd be playing
With my heart all of the time
So tell me why, tell me why
You must have known I'd find out someday
So why all those lies
The truth is right before my eyes
Just what the hell is going on
