Ivy was a girl with two souls trapped in her heart
On her tenth birthday, the dreams got real bad
Visions of another life and another world
When you're born again, it seems like a lie
But I don't know how to help you
And I don't know how to touch you
Let her soul go free
Oh won't you let her soul go free yeah
But I don't know how to help you
And I don't know how to touch you
Let her soul go free
Oh won't you let her soul go free yeah
Will you let her go free
I was sleeping with my head on my pillow
When I woke up 'cause I dreamed about you
You had flowers in your hair
And one in your hand
You reached out for me and it seemed so real
But I don't know how to help you
And I don't know how to touch you
Let her soul go free
Oh won't you let her soul go free yeah
And I don't know how she burned her hand on the cold window pane
But won't you let her soul go free
Oh won't you let her soul go free yeah
But I don't know how to help you
And I don't know how to touch you
Let her soul go free
Oh won't you let her soul go free yeah
But I don't know how to help you
And I don't know how to touch you
Let her soul go free
Oh won't you let her soul go free yeah
Ivy's dreams...
