Good works don't come just in the form of money
Good deeds come with their own reward
Some days start out grey and then turn sunny but you should always be ready for a storm

I'm goin' home, home to lay my head down
I'm goin' home, home to lay down next to you

And you want more time for yourself and your partner and you want to help others so you feel torn and you look all around at the troubles in the world and you wish everything could be reborn

I'm goin' home, home to lay my head down
I'm goin' home, home to lay down next to you

I hear cries calling out from the darkness
I feel eyes staring down from up above
I see lies and rumors come and claim their victims and it's sending me a signal not to give in

I'm goin' home, home to lay my head down

Good works don't come just in the form of money
Good works come with their own reward
