I got a box of tools and a workin' bench
I got a set of sockets and every wrench
I got nuts and bolts and some gorilla glue
If somethin' needs fixing, I'm the one to call
It don't really matter, I can fix it all
'Cept I can't fix myself up with you

I got a big old hammer that fits my swing
Got a leather belt, holds everything
I got all the skills, don't need no crew
I can fix your faucet I can fix your sink
I can fix anything, when I stop and think
'Cept I can't fix myself up with you

I want to fix your roof that's leakin' rain
I want to fix that window with a broken pane
I want to fix your siding that just don't lap
I want to fix that dripin' on your tap
I want to fix your chimney with the crumblin' brick
I want to fix whatever it is you pick
I want to fix all your stuff it's true
'Cause I'm just fixated with you.

I got a pick up truck that runs real good
It carries a load just like it should
I got nails and staples and every screw
If something's broken and needs repair
I can fix it, I'll be right there
'Cept I can't fix myself up with you

I got a cordless drill with every bit
Got a circular saw that ain't got no quit
I got all the skills, there's nothin' I can't do
I can fix your stair, I can fix your deck
I can fix it all, oh what the heck
'Cept I can't fix myself up with you

I want to fix that bell I never ring.
I want to fix that door I just don't swing.
I want to fix that phone that never calls.
I want to fix your trim before it falls.

I want to fix your drawers that seem to stick
I want to fix whatever it is you pick.
I want to fix all your stuff it's true.
'Cause I'm just fixated with you.
