And if the sun sets a mile ahead
Maybe there we can just pretend
This time it just seems

If I could do it all over again
I'd skip those mistakes I made back when It's just the kind of situation that I was in
To take my life and turn it back around again

I find it hard to understand
That when we look back at all our time spent
You tell me that something's just may seem
To matter more to me

And if the, the sun sets a mile ahead
Well, maybe then we can understand
This time it just seems

If we can't forget just what was said
Maybe then we can pretend
That all of our lives will be perfect in the end

We'll take our time maybe we'll grow up
But you'll learn from what you've done
You might believe in what you see
But no, it never made sense to me

Now I'll do it all over again
And I've learned from all of my time spent
You can't believe in the words that people said
If I want something done I'll have to do it myself again

It makes sense, a lot more to me
When you see who they are and not who they want to be
The sun set is a mile ahead
And maybe then we could just pretend that all

Yeah, all of our dreams
That never made sense to me
And now just see

If we can just forget what was said
Maybe then we can pretend
That all of our lives, they'll be perfect in the end

We'll take our time maybe we'll grow up
But what you'll learn from what you've done
You might believe in what you see
But no, it never made sense to me

I'm so sick of closing my eyes
That I can't see myself getting to sleep tonight
'Cause all these dreams are in my mind
They'll keep me awake for days at a time

If we can forget just what was said
Maybe then we'll understand
That all of our lives, they'll be so perfect in the end

If we forget what was said
Maybe then we'll understand
That all of our lives, they'll be perfect in the end

We'll take our time, maybe we'll grow up
But you'll learn from what you've done
You might believe in what you see
But no, it never made sense to me
