Every Kind Of Angel

Who will show you the way ?
Every kind of angel is looking over you
Protecting you as you live day by day
You have no roots to place down
Your past is a mystery with no clues

Every kind of angel is looking over you
Protecting you no matter where you go
No matter what you do
Never leaving your side so you know

Every kind of angel will guide you home
Whenever you get lost
Just follow the path laid out in the stars
They will guide you home safe into your slumber

Every kind of angel will keep you warm
Whenever you get cold
Keeping the frost from touching your soul
Lighting an eternal flame where warmth's never away

Every kind of angel will show you to your soul mate
No one who could ever harm you would they propose Guiding you too whoever you need to grow with The gift of love they will always cherish you with

Every angel will stand over your bed
As you sleep with their hands supporting your head
Imposing sweet dreams where before only nightmares were known
Every kind of angel guarding you at and away from home
