Never more- never more? Never more- never more?

On the verge of making a big swing let's spur the horse to a quest for the truth and day by day more & more people face it: Heaven harbours many races

Them folks embezzle, they're scheming in silence a gain for wars- a cue for religious war mean while it's wrapped up in a veil of unclear cases Heaven harbours many races

Well obviously, religions, politicians never lied with old traditions, ancient styles well without irreligion, inhibitions of old times our view on life put in a new light dance in the darkness of the past millenaries we will watch them blue balloons dance in the lightness and at last this millennium is new

never more- never more?
never more- never more?

who were the ones, locked on by the radar? who were the ones, flying over their towns? we're being crammed all over the places

heaven harbours many races

They await the moment We're under surveillance us kings- of- arms barely can be approached but maybe we'll be part of a universal nation where heaven harbours many races

dance in the lightness and at last this millennium is new, new

dance in the lightness and at last this millennium is
new, new
