Meanwhile I will just keep my big mouth shut
My words are like hot air balloons
With everything already said
- twice, if I may add

My memory says, I never have been here before
From the Ice age up until the first world war
But then, also my birth I never recalled

Spit fire as the world goes round (a-ha)
Fire higher than the clouds
(fire in the clouds)
Spit fire 'till the world comes out
In the twilight

Their talk is as wise as it's laughable:
(oh, and a little ridicul)
"Your aura's like a blue cocoon"
"And all my friends come from the moon"
"I can see ghosts, too" (oh, don't lie!)

And there will be no better thought as the years go by
That our life is going to be continued when we die
Lame excuses or the nature of life

Spit fire as the world goes round (a-ha)
Fire higher than the clouds
(fire in the clouds)
Spit fire 'till the world comes out
Of the twilight

I must admit there's something larger than life at work
it's a little funny you can't see

Spit fire as the world goes round (a-ha)
Fire higher than the clouds (fire in the clouds)
Spit fire 'till the world comes out of the twilight

Spit fire as the world goes round (a-ha)
Fire higher than the clouds (fire in the clouds)
Spit fire 'till the world comes out of the twilight

Soon I myself, too will gladly step
Out of the twilight

'cause only I, myself, understand
Just what I write
