Yesterday told me, it told me
That things never change, na-ah
Said no use in reaching for something
Out of your range
But days they fly and time gone by
And they fade away
Like the pink and purple sky
Between night and day, yeah

But when did it all appear in view
What was hazy now is clear
And what was distant now is here, ooh-oh
And maybe if I just stay with you
There'll be bright purple skies

But where did they go
All those skies made of blue
And what used to matter
What seemed constant and true
But yeah they fly and days gone by
And what used to be, all alone
Would change in right
Then brought you to me

When did it all appear in view
What was hazy now is clear
And what was distant now is here, ooh-oh
And maybe if I just stay with you
There'll be bright purple skies

Always purple skies
Always purple skies
Always purple skies
Always purple skies

When did it all appear in view
What was hazy now is clear
And what was distant now is here, ooh-oh
And maybe if I just stay with you
There'll be bright purple skies
There'll be bright purple skies

There'll be bright
There'll be
There'll be bright purple skies
