You made time stand still like a picture in a frame
And when the moments pass they go so fast but we could feel the same
You made time stand still when you held me in your arms
A sweet embrace I can't replace with all the charms
In the world

And I ask myself as night turns into day
Would the world just keep on spinning if you went away
And I ask myself as light turns into dark
Would the world just keep on spinning if my heart
Fell apart?

You made time stand still like a picture in a frame
And when the moments pass they go so fast but we could feel the same
You made time stand still when you held me in your
arms
A sweet embrace I can't replace with all the charms
In the world

And I ask myself as night turns into day
Would the world just keep on spinning if you went away
And I ask myself as light turns into dark
Would the world just keep on spinning if my heart
Fell apart?

And I ask myself as day turns into night
Why you're the only one that makes the moonlight shine this bright
And I feel you in the sun and in the breeze
I see you in the sky and in the trees

Keeps the stars from falling down
Makes the world go spinning round and round
Lifts the sky and holds the ground
So the keeps going round and round
Paints the light and plays the sound
Makes the world go spinning round and round
Keeps the stars from falling down

Makes the world go spinning round
