

Mick West

"Testing The Waters"

Visit "Testing The Waters" on MotoLyrics.com

This time, our planets have aligned.
Maybe this moon will be ours tonight.
Once again, all odds are against us.
But that's alright cause we're against a lot.
We're testing the waters. We got a taste of what we love. Forget about the ones who'll try to stop us.
We're testing the waters. We've got a taste of what we love. Forget about the ones who'll try to stop us.
Your eyes, they keep me fighting strong.
The scent of failure reeks so heavily.
It feels like somebody has got me by the collar, dragging me down to the ground.
We're testing the waters. We've got a taste of what we love. Forget about the ones who'll try to stop us.
We're testing the waters. We've got a taste of what we love. Forget about the ones who'll try to stop us.
We're testing the waters. We've got a taste of what we love. This song goes out to all who try to stop us. We're testing the waters.
we've got a taste of what we love.
Forget about the ones who try to stop us.

Visit Mick West page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.