You open the door and your love fills up the room

I cannot hide I cannot find my head

But i want to dance with you on Irish meadows

But Iâ€™m not able to my love is always complicated

I know that you would love me undercover

But I could never never never be your lover

Want to hate you want to fake you want to fuck you

Want to live a movie - love

Bad times bad crimes are in my head

But one day will come when I find out that my thoughts are killing me.

I know that you would love me undercover

But I could never never never be your lover
