you can hear, hear it comin' like a train out of control it surely leaves you wonderin' exactly where your ticket goes scream at the conductor he's been deaf for 20 years hear the other people laughin' as it grinds to where it began go to grab your nerve you find that it's been missin' see you've lost your faith in everyone you know well i surely hope that you dont plan on winnin' there's no payin more attention won't until you care you are seconds from the impact and were movin way too slow you say time will surely mold you into somethin' you dont like now your runnin' like a rabbit stick your finger in the dyke look around your room you find the bed is peelin' your effective skin is fallin' off your bones well i must admit i know just how your feelin'

we must grab eachothers collar must rise out of the water to know as well as i do and it's no fun to die alone after all that i've been through your the only one that matters (climb to safety)

you never left me in the dark here on my own (climb to safety)
i can hear the water risin'

let me be your ladder (climb to safety)
i promise you'll be dry and never be alone

tell me love has always scared you like the things under your bed baby we can walk on water like some junkies swore they did you call me on the phone you say that it is crucial stick your fingers in your ears till they explode mind his business and roll along as usual

rise out of the water
it's no fun to die al
