You say that you love me.
You tell me you care.
You promised me love til eternity, a future to share.
But I've had my doubts boy., more than a few.
The games that you played in the past
All catching up with you

Now I'm paying the price
For the things I didn't do
It's taken some time I was out of my mind,
Now I finally figured it out..

My problem is you
So in love with you
My problem is you
So in love with you

Battered and bruised
Convited, confused
Torn between knowing and mystery
Your lies, your truth

Now I'm paying the price
For the things I didn't do
It's taken some time I was out of my mind,
Now I finally figured it out..

My problem is you
So in love with you
My problem is you
So in love with you

(BRIDGE)

Just remember one thing
You lie in the bed you make
A couple of years from now
You'll be thinking about
Why in the hell you let me back off and turn away

My problem is you
So in love with you

My problem is you
So in love with you

My problem is you
So in love with you
My problem is you
So in love with you
