Face the fact, can't you tell she don't feel the same
And I know you're just a fool that hopes to find
That she loves you like you love her in your dreams
To stay together and feel the same, that's how you want it to be

Now that the feeling's gone from her face
Hang your head and walk away
'Cause there ain't no love and there never was
There's nothing she felt, you read her wrong
Oh, you were led on

When you see her, you're so out there to try
You beg on your knees, don't you have any pride?
There's many other girls that would love you for who you are
You waste your time on someone that don't want your love

Now that the feeling's gone from her face
Hang your head and walk away
'Cause there ain't no love, and there never was
There's nothing she felt, you read her wrong
Oh, you were led on, you were led on

She said, "Don't continue to follow, walk the opposite way
Find someone else that will love you the same Haven't you got any other things to do instead of trying Pull yourself together, baby, stop wasting your time"

'Cause now that the feeling's gone from her face
Hang your head and walk away
'Cause there ain't no love, and there never was
There's nothing she felt, you read her wrong
Oh, you were led on, yeah, you were led on

Baby, you were led on, you led on

Now that the feeling's gone from her face
Hang your head and walk away
'Cause there ain't no love, and there never was

There's nothing she felt, you read her wrong
Oh, you were led on

Now that the feeling's gone from her face
Hang your head and walk away

Now that the feeling's gone from her face
'Cause there ain't no love, and there never was
There's nothing she felt, you read her wrong
Oh, you were led on

Now that the feeling's gone
There ain't no love, there never was Nothing she felt, you read her wrong
You were led on, you were led on

You were led on
