If I knew what Debbie wanted
I'd be happy, I would smile
She'd be lying next to me
With her legs tangled up in mine
Now she isn't here with me
She's all gone
She's moved on
She ran over to Billy
Where's my dawn, where's my dawn
She ran over to Billy

I've been thinking
I've been drinking
I've been staying away
From the house we used to live in
And the places we would lay
Put the bottle to my head
And shot it dead, you and I
Dug a ditch by the graveyard
Meant to visit ain't got time
Dug a ditch by the graveyard

You used to be the girl
But now you the woman
The woman to break the world
You did, you did
[x3]

And I knew a woman
A woman, a woman
